I was born and raised in Willard and have spent all but my college years here. I have always known that Willard is where I wanted to be. We jumped at the opportunity to move back and raise our own family here. My husband and I bought one of the historic pioneer homes and love raising our children and animals in our small town.

I have always had a strong desire to serve this community. Over the last few years, there has been a lot of growth, and I want to be a part of making sure that we manage the growth in a way that, as Willard's vision statement reads, "seeks to preserve the rural agricultural quality of life, preservation of its natural resources, and enhancement of its community pride and values." I believe there is a better way to control the growth in a way that meets our vision statement.

My background in land use planning with the USDA has taught me the necessity of revisiting and revising plans often to meet the needs of the people the plan is there to serve, and how to communicate with the community. I look forward to serving this great town.
